What's a regional council?

Regional councils are responsible for their region's natural resources and environment as a whole. Their more specific responsibilities typically include:

- Flood protection
- Pest management
- Land transport planning
- Public transport services
- Harbour navigation and safety
- Sustainable economic development
- Marine pollution
- Regional parks

How are city and district councils different?

City and district councils are responsible for essential community services within their own areas, such as:

- Road maintenance
- Water for homes and businesses
- Sewerage
- Stormwater
- Land use and subdivisions
- Community health
- Community services (eg, libraries and swimming pools)

What do Regional Councillors do?

The Council and its various committees meet every six weeks to receive reports from Greater Wellington staff, debate issues and decide on policy. Councillors decide the overall policies, while Greater Wellington's management provides advice to the Council and is responsible for implementing the Council's decisions. In general, meetings are open to the public and meeting dates are advertised in local newspapers.

Regional Councillors are publicly elected in local government elections every three years. The Council's chair is elected by the Councillors.

There are 13 Regional Councillors representing the Wellington region's six constituencies:

Constituency	Representatives
Wellington	5
Kapiti Coast	1
Porirua-Tawa	2
Lower Hutt	3
Upper Hutt	1
Wairarapa	1
Total	13

Where does our money come from?

- General rates
- Targeted rates
- Water supply levy
- Government subsidies
- Dividend income
- Other revenue

Have your say

Every year Greater Wellington publishes an Annual Plan and every three years updates its 10-Year Plan. Both plans ask for your views on our planned work for the Wellington region.
